M'CRACKEN HIGH SCHOOL BUILT OF PADUCAH PRODUCT

"Marblecrete" Will be Employed in Construction of Building.

County Trustees Make Arrangements For It.

CONTRACTS LET FOR SCHOOLS

It was decided to advertise for bids for the erection of the new county high school at Heath at once by the county school board, which was in session Saturday afternoon. The building will be erected of marblecrete, which is manufactured by a local concern, and the specifications were adopted by the board Saturday. No date has been set for awarding the contract, but it will be let soon, as the trustees desire to get the building under construction.

The deed for site of the county high school was received Saturday afternoon. Henry Harting and A. P. Hill deeded three acres of land, facing the Metropolis and Louisville gravel road. Also the difficulty in securing a deed for the site of the high point school was settled amicably by securing a deed.

The old Pleasant Ridge school house was sold to Fred Meyer for $25 and he agreed to remove it at once, so that the contractor may have the site on which to erect the new school building.

Arrangements were completed for the borrowing of $6,000 from the City National bank at 6 per cent interest.

July 1 $2,000 will be borrowed, while August 1 another $3,000 will be borrowed. The money will be used to erect the three new school houses.

For the first time this year the school trustees were allowed their salaries for attending the meetings.

One is Dead in Fire at Wickliffe

ALF T. BERRY, MORGANFIELD, IS OVERCOME

Charred Body Found in Ruins of His Room in Hotel Sunday.

Wickliffe, Ky., June 14.—(Special.)—One man is dead and the Union hotel is almost destroyed, as the result of a fire, which originated in the first floor of the two-story building on public square Saturday at midnight. Alf T. Berry, of Morganfield, Ky., is the victim. He was found after the fire was extinguished, fully dressed and lying within the door of his room on the second floor. It is believed he was overcome with smoke, while trying to make his way to the stairs. His body was sent to Morganfield for burial yesterday.

The loss to the hotel property and contents is about $5,000, not insured. J. J. Grace owns the building, and the hotel was operated by Mrs. Alf Russell.

The fire originated from some unknown cause in the meat market of J. H. Myers, which occupied the first floor of the two-story frame. The fire department responded promptly to the alarm and did fine work extinguishing the blaze before the building was utterly destroyed, and saving two adjoining brick buildings, occupied by George B. Wild's grocery store and the general feed store of A. Toer. They were slightly damaged.

All the inmates of the hotel, excepting Berry, who was a lumber man, escaped easily, and it was supposed he was safely outside.

Killing at Pryorsburg.

Mayfield, Ky., June 14. (Special.)—Bomer Scoles, a young white man, shot and killed a negro boy of the same of Pryorsburg, here Saturday night in a quarrel over a game of craps. Ten cents was involved in the dispute. Young Scoles surrendered to the officers.

Election at Princeton.

Book Trust Gets Contract.

Frankfort, Ky., June 14.—Votes in all the counties but four on text books for five years were received by the school book commission. The result will be announced late this afternoon. Owing to lack of bids the American Book company is assured of the contracts.

Afternoon Tea at "Sunny Crest."

Mrs. James C. Utterback is the hostess this afternoon from 4:30 until 6 o'clock at an informal tea at her suburban home, "Sunny Crest," given in honor of her house guest, Mrs. John J. McHenry, of Louisville. Receiving with Mrs. Utterback and Mrs. McHenry will be the following out-of-town guests: Mrs. Max B. Nahn, of Bowling Green; Mrs. William Ross, of Madisonville; Miss Graves, of Louisville. The beautiful home is attractively decorated with a profusion of the out-door flowers. The tea is a charmingly appointed affair.

BIDS FOR CUSTOM HOUSE WORK TO BE OPENED IN JULY

Bids for the custom house improvements will be received at Washington, D. C., till 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, July 14. An appropriation of $15,000 was made to be spent on the custom house in this city. The improvements consist of an entrance to the new section of the building similar to the other two entrances on the old section of the building, a new set of lock boxes, marble wainscoting in the lobby, extending four feet from the floor on the side walls and the painting of the whole interior. The work on the postoffice will be started immediately after the contract is let at Washington.

While playing around an ice cream freezer, John Caporn, the 2 1/2-year-old son of Louis Caporn, was caught in the machinery and his right wrist fractured, his right arm bruised Saturday afternoon. The child was resting easy today.

Robbers Get Booty.

Telluride, Colo., June 14.—Authorities are hunting three men who stole $40,000 in gold ore from the bunkhouse in the Nellie mine, on Bear Creek, early Sunday. Five men and two women were asleep when masked men entered, and forced them to tell the hiding place of the ore. They escaped on horseback, firing ineffectively at Joseph Kent, mine manager, who pursued. Fred Zannetti, a former employee, was arrested on suspicion.

WAS THE WRONG MAN SO CAPTOR BEGGED PARDON

His resemblance to a barber, of the name of Grace, got Frank James, of 1723 Monroe street, an employee of the News-Democrat, into trouble this morning about 10 o'clock. He was waiting for a car at Fountain avenue and Broadway, when a stranger, supposed to be Frank Troutman, of 2109 Broadway, approached, covered him with a pistol and compelled him to go into an alley west of Fountain avenue.

There his pockets were searched by the man, who, after examining some papers with James' name on them, said: "You are not the man I want." The man said he was looking for Grace.

Grace said Troutman had threatened him to secure some information, which Grace claims not to possess. Grace said he obtained permission from the county judge to go armed.

Troutman was interviewed by a reporter for The Sun this afternoon and admitted he was the man. He said it was a case of mistaken identity. His life had been threatened by a person, who looked like James, and he was taking precautions to protect himself. He said when James refused to accompany him he drew a revolver. He examined James' papers and found he had the wrong man, whereupon he apologized. He would not say who had threatened his life.

Pat Lamore succeeded in giving bond again late Saturday afternoon and was released from the county jail. His bondsmen are: Theodore Niemczyk, W. H. Schroeder, and his brothers, George J. Lamore and Fred Lamore. Lamore was indicted for the murder of Deb Mason and was out on bond until surrendered by County Judge Lightfoot.

CALLOWAY COUNTY POLITICS IS MIXED AND INTERESTING

Murray, Ky., June 14. (Special.)—Calloway county presents a peculiar political situation just at present, out of which the Republicans hope to secure some blessings. The strife between Democratic factions, which resulted in one instance in an appeal from the action of the county committee to W. A. Berry, congressional committeeman, and in another in an appeal to the circuit court from the action of the county primary, is well known. The fight between Judge Tom Cook and T. J. Hanberry, of Christiana, for circuit judge, was mixed in it, and the success of Hanberry is secretly hailed with delight by Republicans, who believe it has made the split wider.

In all this must be considered the rock-ribbed character of Calloway Democracy, and the penchant of the majority party to split into factions. However, this schism is more serious than any before. In the first place, the primary contest is still pending in circuit court on its merits, and will perpetuate the bitterness well on toward election time, contrary to the usual hope of politicians that factionalism will have had time to die out before fall.

In addition to this, the Murray Ledger, Cook's organ, is still fighting Hanberry. In its last issue it said from indications Cook by his defeat at the primary will escape what is waiting for Hanberry in November. The Hopkinsville Post-Kentuckian, declared the race was decided by a split in the ranks of the night rider faction, and that neither was supported by the old law and order element. So, there is no reason why Hanberry should appeal to the voters as a reformer, according to the Hopkinsville paper.

On the other hand, Hanberry was supported by the Calloway Times a law and order paper, and by Senator Conn Llan, the Hollands, the Wellies, and that faction of Democracy in Calloway, which was once known as the law and order element.

The first split in Calloway came when at the county primary, held on election day, there were more votes cast in some precincts carried by successful candidates, than there were Democratic votes cast in the general election. This induced Judge Cook to tell the grand jury to investigate the charge that Republicans participated. The trouble is the committee arose over the charge by the Keys faction that the other side refused votes to some of their men. W. A. Berry decided the contest in favor of the successful side.

Taking advantage of the situation the Republicans nominated three candidates. They expect many Democrats, who oppose the present county organization, to support them. Had Cook been nominated, these Democrats, if they worked for him, would necessarily have to work for the whole ticket; but since he is defeated, his friends in that faction will have no occasion to get out and work for anyone.

The Democratic majority in Calloway is a big thing to overcome, and the successful faction claims to have no fear of the outcome this time.

BODY OF UNKNOWN FOUND BY TRACK BY FREIGHT CREW

The body of some unknown white man, about five feet, eight inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds, was found near Epperson, four miles south of Paducah on the Illinois Central railroad, this afternoon by the crew of freight train No. 72. It was brought to the Union station on a hand car in charge of Coroner Frank Baker.

The indications were that the man was walking the track when killed. His chest was crushed and right foot amputated.

Library of Squire W. G. Brewer, Fairview, bequeathed to Hopkinsville Elks.

BANKERS OF FIRST DISTRICT MEET IN THIS CITY TODAY TO TALK ABOUT MATTERS OF INTEREST TO BUSINESS

ENTERTAINED AT LUNCH BY PADUCAH FINANCIERS.

THOSE WHO ARE ATTENDING AND MAKING ADDRESSES.

Bankers of the first group of the Kentucky Bankers' association held their first meeting today at the Palmer house. Present at the meeting are bankers from over the entire First district, although the attendance is not as large as was expected. The bankers discussed business matters that would benefit the bankers of the district as well as the state. It was manifested by the speakers that still a closer cohesion is needed by the bankers of the First district.

The bankers convened this morning at 11 o'clock in the parlors of the Palmer House, and the program was taken up after the address of welcome and response. At the completion of the program the visiting bankers were guests of the Paducah bankers at luncheon, while this afternoon they are enjoying an automobile ride over the city.

The meeting was opened this morning by Mr. Louis M. Rieke, president of the First district bankers, and he expressed the hope that the meeting would be a success for all in attendance. In the absence of Mayor Smith Attorney W. F. Bradshaw, Jr., made the address of welcome. Mr. Bradshaw said the bankers are a class of people with whom it pays to remain on good terms, and that it afforded him great pleasure to welcome them to Paducah; for he felt sure the time might come when he would be glad to meet them.

He said the effect of the financial depression has been felt by the bankers of western Kentucky, and he thought it was impressed on the bankers that there is a greater need of cohesion among the bankers of the First district.

Mr. John R. Wylie, of Princeton, was on the program to deliver the response, but was not in attendance, and President Rieke appointed Frank K. Houston, assistant cashier of the First National bank, of Nashville, to respond on behalf of the visiting bankers. Mr. Houston came to Paducah from Bowling Green, where he attended a similar meeting of bankers, and said that it gave him much pleasure to meet the bankers of Paducah, because of its proximity to Nashville.

The theme of his address was the need of a closer union between the bankers. He said in Tennessee the state is divided into three grand divisions, eastern, middle, and western. At the last legislature he said several bad bills were introduced but by the combined effort of the associations they were defeated.

"Co-operation." In the course of his address on "Co-operation," State President J. E. Downing, of Georgetown, said:

"We are living in an age of co-operation. We are surrounded by evidences of it on every hand, and I am glad to say that we bankers are at last awakening to the fact that it is a prime necessity in the conduct of our business. In this we are, I regret to say, very far behind the rest of the commercial world, but I hope that we shall make up in zeal and effectiveness for our lack of forwardness."

"We could I am sure, follow suit in this way to our great material advantage, but so close has rivalry been with us heretofore that many of us, I dare say all, have fallen into the wiles of the fellow who moves his account to us because our competitor would not extend him every accommodation asked for. There was a time when I made a notch in a stick when I could get some one like that away from some other bank, but I am learning better now. I simply tell him that his treatment was deserved and the other bank is a better one than mine any way. We all, at least all of us in the part of the country I come from, have been in the habit of suffering large overdrafts. Each of us was fearful to offend our customer by refusing his check, thinking if we turned him down we would have one less account on our books, and our neighbor one more. Some of us have tired of this imposition and have about agreed that what is lost by asking for strict adherence to business principles will be made up to us in other ways, and if it is not, we shall at least have the satisfaction of knowing that we have probably made a Christian for somebody else to profit by."

"The same with the chronic past due customer, the one that we spend

ELKINS-ABRUZZI.

Naples, June 14.—The Duke and Duchess of De Gula secretly sailed on the steamship Berlin for New York Saturday. It is reported in high circles that Katherine Elkins will return with them to Italy in order to overcome the objections hitherto urged against the marriage to Abruzzi. The Duchess De Gula is a sister of Duchess Ellen de Aosta, Abruzzi's sister-in-law. A close friend of the duke says he and Miss Elkins are in constant communication. It is reported the duke's despondency caused the king and queen to consent to the marriage. The duke is in the Himalayas.

PRESIDENT OF BRAZIL.

Washington, June 14.—President Alfonso Penna, of Brazil, died this morning, according to a dispatch to the American minister.

G. A. R. COMMANDER.

Toledo, June 14.—Gen. John S. Konetz, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., 85 years old, died today after a long illness of Bright's disease. He enlisted as a drummer boy and was decorated by congress for bravery at Missionary Ridge, where he lost a leg.

enough postage on to materially reduce the rate at which we agreed to loan the money.

"In all of these fields we need co-operation, and I sincerely trust that we shall have it in time."

"To look on the other side for a while, as to what we have accomplished through our organization."

Taxation. "Since the new constitution went into effect we have year after year been paying taxes on 100 per cent of apparent capital, surplus and profits. You will note that I say 'apparent' and I do so advisedly. Let us look at the question closely for a few minutes. What is capital, surplus and profits? It is what will remain to you after all your deposits are paid in cash—your real estate sold perhaps for some other business, your furniture and fixtures and your safe disposed of at a great sacrifice—your leasehold, if you do not own your banking house, held and kept idle for months, as I know to have been the case in several instances with rent going on. Figure this out, if you will, in your own way and see for yourself just how much of what you have been carrying as surplus and undivided profits is a taxable good-will, and if good-will is taxable I have yet to learn it, and still for years we suffered the injustice of this extortion on the part of the taxing authorities of the state until the Kentucky Bankers' association through their attorneys finally succeeded in getting it reduced to an 80 per cent basis. It ought to be 60 per cent and if we had the united support of all the banks of the state, who have benefited by our organization, we could probably secure further concessions."

"I had that in most cases the county and city authorities have followed the rule of the state board of valuation and appraisement, and in the case of the bank with which I am connected, I figure that we are saving $450 per annum and our dues are $15 in the Kentucky Bankers' association. I should feel I was an ingrate if I did not give that association my moral and financial support."

Fidelity Bonds. "I am in the insurance business on the side and I feel that I have a perfect right to speak on this subject."

METROPOLIS MADE HARD FIGHT FOR HUSTLERS' MEET

Metropolis, Ill., June 14.—(Special.)—Although nearly 200 boosters went to Centralia from this place, East St. Louis won the "Egyptian Hustlers' convention for 1910. The vote was for East St. Louis, 138, and for Metropolis 100. The following officers were elected: President, Fred L. Bulger, St. Louis; vice president, Harry Wataas, Mt. Vernon; secretary, E. J. McDaniel, East St. Louis; treasurer, Ed. Alciwell, St. Louis. The report of Secretary Cline showed a membership of 880. The report of Treasurer A. C. Pace showed a balance in the treasury of $976. The meet at Centralia created a deficit of $250 which was raised before the Hustlers left the convention hall.

He referred in beginning to his own period of skepticism as his youth, when he "thought he knew more than he ever will know." But he found safe anchorage on the bedrock of the first verse of Genesis: "In the beginning God made the heaven and the earth."

Science stops just short of the beginning, he argued. He spoke of the theory of evolution, which with many gaps and breaks, goes back to the germ of life; but must presume the existence of that germ. "Whereas came that germ?" insists Mr. Bryan.

CHAUTAUQUA HAS GREAT OPENING IN BRYAN'S LECTURE

"Prince of Peace" Attracts Nearly 3,000 People to League Park.

Vespers and Fine Concert Given Last Night.

THE PROGRAM FOR THE WEEK

The fourth annual session of Chautauqua opened yesterday with an ideal June day.

When the King of Day peeped over the horizon he looked into a cloudless sky which darkened a few hours later and shaded the eyes of Bryan's auditors from the glare of the summer sun.

Late risers found people from the country and neighboring towns already on the streets and later trains and boats brought more, and as early as 8:30 a. m. efforts were made to get seats at the ball park to hear that distinguished American citizen, Hon. William Jennings Bryan. Early in the afternoon the street cars began to go out crowded and at 3:45 o'clock when the band struck up "My Old Kentucky Home," an interesting audience of nearly 2,000 faces filled the grand stand of the ball park as well as the additional seats provided and many were standing. The crowd was interesting because made up of men, women and children, as to what we have accomplished through our organization."

Promptly at 4 o'clock, accompanied by a party of friends, Mr. Bryan arrived in an automobile and amid a burst of applause took his seat and the platform on which were seated Mayor and Mrs. J. P. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Boyd, ex-Mayor D. A. Yelzer, Hon. Cbas. K. Wheeler, Hon. Polk Miller, Hon. Tom Booker, Messrs. Max B. Nahn, of Bowling Green; Geo. C. Wallace, H. C. Rhoades, Jos. L. Friedman, S. A. Fowler, W. F. Paxton, J. C. Utterback, C. O. Grassham, Harry Meyers and others.

Is a most happy man and with a few remarks, which harmonized with the splendid address which followed, Mr. C. C. Grassham introduced the speaker, who having already acknowledged the salute given him by taking off his hat and putting on a gracious smile, expressed his gratification at beginning his Chautauqua season among friends. Then followed an address which might be better called a sermon, full of food for thought and replete with gems of English. He began by saying that he regarded the Chautauqua platform the best place to present things worth presenting. He had no apology for speaking on a religious subject for while in a political speech a majority must be convinced to count for anything, in a religious address some good was done if only one soul was stirred to a better life.

There was enough humor to provoke both smiles and applause, but the general trend of the speaker's remarks was that of such intense earnestness as to rivet the attention of even those who had to stand.

The concluding idea was that the supreme duty of the good citizen is to take up and do each day the duties that devolve upon him.

Mr. Bryan's speech, "But what came ye out for to see?" might have been asked by Mr. Bryan. There were a few, who despite the simplicity of religion and Bryan's speech was too plain for them. There were others, who went out to listen to oratorical pyrotechnics, and they heard a sermon. Out of deference to the day and the subject Mr. Bryan never violated the proprieties by directing attention from his subject to his own powers, and aside from one or two quotations from Tolstoy, his quotations and illustrations were all from the Bible and from nature. Yet he held the audience for two hours.

He referred in beginning to his own period of skepticism as his youth, when he "thought he knew more than he ever will know." But he found safe anchorage on the bedrock of the first verse of Genesis: "In the beginning God made the heaven and the earth."

Science stops just short of the beginning, he argued. He spoke of the theory of evolution, which with many gaps and breaks, goes back to the germ of life; but must presume the existence of that germ. "Whereas came that germ?" insists Mr. Bryan.

BASEBALL NEWS

Brookport Wins.
Brookport won the second game from the Wellie team at Brookport yesterday by a score of 6 to 0. The game was contested closely by both teams, and but for hard luck the Wellies would have scored. Har pitched for Brookport, and allowed three hits, while Council pitched for the Wellies and was hit safely three times. A feature of the game was a star catch by Carroll, who ran from short over second base and made a sensational catch of a line drive. By the catch he secured a double play. Both pitchers put up a good game.

The score:

The Wellies lined up—M. Gallagher, c; Connell, p; Malone, 1b; Johnson, 2b; Morgan, 3b; Carroll, ss; Ruoff, lf; P. Gallagher, cf, and Penn, rf.

Walter Burton, the crack fielder of the Wellies, is ill with malaria, and out of the game.

Wallenstein Lost to Benton.
On a field crowded with spectators, the Wallenstein team lost to the Benton baseball team at Benton yesterday afternoon by a score of 4 to 5 after the Paducah boys had the game in hand by a score of 4 to 3. All the way through the game was excellent, and as the closing innings approached the spectators crowded on to the field and the infielders were smothered. In the ninth inning when two runs were made by Benton the Wallenstein catcher, first baseman and third baseman were so crowded that it was impossible to locate them.

Hofflich worked for the Wallenstein team and he threw a pretty game of baseball. Stillie was on the slab for Benton, and his stock of curves was good, but the Wallenstein b's him occasionally. A feature of the game was a grandstand catch of Edling, who played field for Benton. He ran back and caught a high fly with two fingers. Dixon for Wallenstein made a star catch of a hard drive in left garden, while the infielding of R. Mercer, Yopp and Katterjohn was as perfect as clockwork. The work of Harry Mercer was gilded, as besides catching a pretty game he did not allow a single man to steal.

Wallenstein players did their share of stealing. H. Mercer and Anderson pilfered two sacks each, while Ford stole one base. Robert Mercer was a bright star for the Wallensteins, as besides his grand field at third station he got a three-base hit and a two bagger. McGarrigal lined out a drive good for two sacks and Ford got a single.

MODERN HAIR DRESSING.
has played havoc with the tresses of the fair sex, and druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of age for making the old-fashioned "age tea," such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair and restoring its natural color. The demand for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact, and has placed on the market an ideal "age tea," containing sulphur, a valuable remedy for dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations. This preparation, which is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by W. J. Gilbert.

work the game was a beauty with a pitchers' battle as the main attraction. Johnson was on the slab for the Elks while Switzer twirled for the Red Sox team. Both were well matched. The game was played on the diamond in the rear of the shop diagonally, and owing to the warm weather it was agreed to play only seven innings.

B. B. HOOK TEAM WON.
The B. B. Hook baseball team "hooked" a game from the "Plover Boys" of Kevill yesterday morning in a hard fought game by the score of 10 to 2. The score does not indicate the battle that was had as the runs were made in the final innings, when the Kevill boys were played off their feet, and for relief took a balloon trip. Before Kevill could return to earth the Hook team had swatted the ball on the nose many times and clinched the game.

The game started with Edwards in the box for the Hook team, while Wand whipped them over for the Kevill lads. For the first five innings it was three up and three down, but in the sixth inning Kevill forced two runners over the pan while the Hooks were better and scored four times. The lead frightened the Kevill team, and the remaining three innings were easy for the Hooks. Wand for Kevill pitched a star game and if he had been accorded better support the game might have been better. Edwards had the Kevill team on his hip, and after the seventh inning retired in favor of Hinkle, who finished the game in good shape. Wand fanned eleven men and allowed eight safe drives, while Edwards struck out eight men and allowed four hits. Hinkle struck out one man and allowed one hit.

The game was played on the diamond at Union station, and 300 people saw the game. Burger was the only man to get a two-base hit as the pitchers kept the long distance hits in a sack.

The score:

B. B. Hook..... 10 8 2

Red Sox Lose to Elks.
In one of the prettiest games of the season the Elks shut out the Red Sox team yesterday morning by a score of 3 to 0. For all around both teams started off with blanks until the third inning when Sutton singled for the Elks and he was advanced to third station by Allenberg. Sutton scored on a hit by Donovan. Two more scores were made in later innings, but the Red Sox team was unable to hit the curves of Johnson, and were given a dose of whitewash.

The score:
R H E
Elks..... 3 2 5
Red Sox..... 0 2 4

The teams lined up: Elks—Harbour, c; Johnson, p; Goodman, 1b; Groves, 2b; Mercer, 3b; Donovan, ss; Sutton, lf; Williams, cf; Allenberg, rf. Red Sox—Cathery, c; Switzer, p; Evans, 1b; Gourleux, 2b; Cox, 3b; Pearson, ss; Hanners, lf; J. Fuener, cf, and C. Fuller, rf.

Red Sox Gout.
In a well played pitchers' battle the Red Sox lost to the Elks by a score of 3 to 0 in a seven-inning contest, yesterday morning on the I. C. shops diamond.

If the Elks had played two more innings the score might have been closer. Batteries for Red Sox—Switzer and Cathery; Elks—Johnson and Harbour.

DIAMOND DUST.
Runyan and Block have aligned with Fulton and both are playing a star game. Runyan pitched a two-hit game Friday against the Corinth.

Miss. team. He won his game 3 to 0. Saturday he started in to pitch, but Corinth secured four runs and he was succeeded by "Red" Davis, who held Corinth down, but Fulton could not overcome the lead. Rupert Robertson played Friday and Saturday at short for Fulton. His work at short was so good that the Fulton management offered him a contract, but he prefers to play ball at home, and passed it up. Block has made good behind the bat, as his catching is a feature of every game.

June 27 the B. B. Hook team will play La Center and Kevill in a double batter at La Center. The Paducah lads hope to win both games. Weaver, who pitched for Carbondale against the Indiana several weeks ago, is playing left field for Fulton. Weaver went in the box for Carbondale after the Indiana had batted a pitcher out of the box, and bell Lloyd's men safe.

McGee, catcher for the Hook team and Jones, catcher for Kevill, injured their fingers in the game yesterday, but both continued in the game.

Benton wants to arrange a game with the Wallenstein team for July 4. The game has not been settled, as the Paducah players want the field roped so that the spectators cannot interfere with play.

Ellott, a pitcher for the Wallenstein team, is sick, while Hofflich is taking his place on the slab.

COURT OF APPEALS

TO PASS ON CONSTITUTIONALITY OF LAW.

Judge Cook sustains demurrer in the case in which Creelius Act is involved.

Judge Cook sustained the demurrer that had been filed to the indictment against Thomas Hodge and R. C. West, charging them with having unlawfully bought tobacco that was pooled in one of the farmers' associations, and the case was dismissed. The demurrer reads as follows: "The defendant demurs to the indictment herein because it does not set up sufficient facts to constitute a violation of law."

In sustaining the demurrer Judge Cook did not give any opinion as to the constitutionality of the Creelius law under which the indictment was returned. The commonwealth is now expected to appeal the decision and in this way make a test case so that the exact status of the law may be established by the court of appeals.

The indictment against J. P. Thompson & company, charging them with having sold tobacco on their loose floor that was pledged, was dismissed this morning upon motion of the commonwealth the following endorsement being written on the back of the indictment: "Dismissed as to J. P. Thompson & company, for want of sufficient proof to convict."—Hopkinsville New Era.

X-RAYS SHOW WOMAN IS LIAR.

Charity Patent With "Bad" Heart Found to Have $100 Concealed.

Cincinnati—"Doctor, do you ever do anything for charity? I am an awfully poor woman and have heart trouble. Won't you please examine my heart with the X-rays free of cost?"

This plea was made by a poorly dressed woman to Dr. George Hermann yesterday.

"Yes, I will examine you," said the doctor.

"But, doctor, I do not wish to take off my waist—you can make the examination without taking that off, can't you?" asked the woman.

"It would be better to take it off, but if you insist, leave it on," was the reply.

The X-ray machine began to crackle and the physician gazed at her heart. Happening to look a bit lower he was surprised to discover three $20 gold pieces hidden in a chambray bag under the woman's garment.

"How is my heart, doctor?"

"Your heart is pretty bad," he volunteered. "You lied when you said you were poor. Take that money out of your waist and pay me $5."

The woman nearly collapsed, but paid the $5. Altogether she had about $100.

The children of those Indians know the canoe, and they know how to use it, and if you go Temagami this summer they will paddle your canoe in their own superb way. They will be the best guides you ever had. Students who camp in summer along the Temagami lakes are able to do two years' work in one. Finest of fishing and hunting. Good hotel accommodation. ## In a London Club.

Recently at a dinner party the conversation turned upon the subject of clubs. The special features of the Athenaeum were referred to with great respect, and then J. M. Barrie, who was the only member of that august club who happened to be present, intervened.

"After having been elected by the Athenaeum club," he said, "I went there for the first time and looked about for the smoking room. An old man with long, white hair was wandering in a lonely way, about the hall. I asked him if he would be so kind as to tell me the way to the smoking room. He agreed with alacrity. When we returned to the hall I thanked him heartily, when he begged me to do him the honor of dining with him. 'But, my dear sir,' I said, 'you have been far too kind to me already. I cannot think of imposing myself upon you in this fashion.'"

"'Imposing yourself,' exclaimed the old man in an eager voice. 'On the contrary, you will be doing me the greatest favor in the world; the fact is I have belonged to this club for thirty years and you are the first member who has ever spoken to me.'—The Bellman.

Avoid the crowd and delay at the end of the month by payment of city tax bills now.

Keep your eye on the humble man. Perhaps he is lying low for the purpose of humbling you.

Some Reasons Why This House Deserves Your Consideration:

We were the first to inaugurate the semi-annual clearance system by which the public was enabled to profit at our expense.

We were the first in Paducah to include Blues and Blacks in these sales, thus forcing others to follow in the path we had blazed.

We were the first to give to the purchaser, absolutely free choice of all stocks, thus enabling him to obtain the best in the house.

We were the first to close out all stocks regardless of cost that we might be enabled to continue each year our decisive determination to carry over no old stocks.

We were the first therefore to include only new stocks in our Clearance sales, thus giving the public the assurance of receiving only new lines.

THESE FACTS ARE WORTHY OF YOUR CONSIDERATION.

Daily Thought.

"No man ever shoots his own moral aim."

A bit of rhyme in a Memphis paper apropos the cold weather of early spring house cleaning season, reminds us "time copy" gets its name from the period that often elapses between the snip of the exchange editor's shears and the last rites of the make-up man.

IDEALS AND THEORIES IN GOVERNMENT.

To those, who had the pleasure of hearing Hon. William Jennings Bryan preach his great lay sermon on "The Prince of Peace" at the Chautauqua yesterday afternoon, the old mystery of his popularity is no longer a mystery. It is the great faith that is in him. There is a proposition on which the advocates of the "new thought" and the fire-worshippers of ancient India can unite with us. If "faith" is the substance (or assurance) of things hoped for," Bryan has that substance; for no one can hear his lecture without believing that his faith is pinned, not to winning office, but to the ultimate triumph of eternal right and justice. Bryan's hold on the people is through his ideals, not his theories.

Pursuing into the realm of national politics, the principles repeated by Mr. Bryan in his lecture, why cannot we adapt to statecraft the policy on which the protestant churches got together and apportioned the foreign missionary field—discarding from their consideration those points on which they differ and considering only those points on which they agree. Democrats, Republicans and Socialists have some points in common. If they are all patriots, and by keeping in mind these higher ideals at all times, they would soon find themselves working together in their several ways for the country, to the quick solution of many vexing problems.

Disregarding the parties, Democratic and Republican, which are but organizations, taking their color from time to time, according to the force and views of their leading men, let us study for the time Mr. Bryan, who along with other leaders, has his ideals, and the socialists. Both have a common failing. Both see the wrongs existing in our present social, political and industrial systems. Mr. Bryan takes his observations from the point of view of the western farmer. The Socialist gathers his data from the crowded tenements of eastern industrial centers. Mr. Bryan and the Socialists, we believe, both agree on this proposition: the men, who founded this nation were providentially guided across the Atlantic to establish a nation, that should be the leader in that divine propaganda—the brotherhood of man. The Declaration of Independence was inspired; but the constitution was not. The constitution was a compromise of the kind the world has ever known; but there were two factors ever apparent in the attitude of those who drew it up. They feared the establishment of a monarchy, and they feared one another. Today we are homogeneous and the spirit of the entire civilized world is antipathetic to monarchical form of government. We no longer harbor the dread of a monarchy; but we do have two evils to face with each generation—vice and ignorance. Now, if a father should build up a great industry under difficult circumstances and conditions, his sons would not be doing him credit by simply sitting down to enjoy what his father gave them, without trying to extend the usefulness and capacity of that institution. No more are we honoring our forefathers by leaving the work, they so nobly began, unfinished. Ours is the part to take it up and develop democracy to its full measure of possibility for the good of the human race.

Mr. Bryan's mistake in his theories of government has been to assume that the wrongs and evils he observes are modern in their origin, and that the proper remedy is to return to conditions as they existed at the time of Jefferson and Jackson; little reckoning that we could not arrest our development, if we would, and that these evils are inherent in a system that is obsolete and must be eliminated as we progress toward the ideal Democracy.

The Socialist claims for his proposed form of government the title of "applied Christianity." He asserts, without the hope of contradiction, that if there is a God he is strong enough to overcome all the wrong in the world and establish absolute justice. Then, having convinced us with an ideal, the Socialist would compel us to subscribe to a theory. He says "by this means—legislative—must we obtain ultimate justice and equity. The Socialist reforms the place, where all political reforms must originate—in the heart of the sovereign. The Socialist in the contemplation of individual wrongs loses sight of the Providential purpose of this government. He would, by substituting common rights for personal rights, enforce the universal brotherhood by law, and make man love his fellowman under penalty. We remind our Socialist brothers that Jehovah himself led the slave-born Children of Israel forty years in the wilderness until all but the two who possessed the necessary faith, died; before he guided them into the land of Canaan. God himself could not have made those craven spirits fight; and God himself could not save Socialism, among a people who insistently talk about personal rights and liberties instead of personal responsibility. Providence is guiding this nation toward the ultimate realization of the substance of things for which the Socialists hope; but not necessarily inspiring the political platform on which Mr. Debs stands. Providence leaves us much latitude in which to learn in our own way, and we generally learn what is right by first learning the fatality of what is wrong. Union labor and the employers are learning; together that arbitration is the best way to settle differences, the first ascertaining in the most crucial fashion that fighting is disastrous. International disarmament is certain, because at the rate European nations are building navies, the countries will soon be bankrupt and the masses will starve or inaugurate civil warfare, unless it is stopped.

Right will triumph over wrong. We all agree that Providence has a purpose for us to fulfill. Let us all in our several capacities remember that high purpose, and forget the petty animosities that divide us. Let us strive to eliminate all that is evil and tends to destroy the mental, moral and physical vigor of our citizenship, encourage everything that strengthens the nation and the individuals, and discuss our theories of statecraft on the high plane of individual and national responsibility to a divine being, who has thus far guided our nation and made it a shining light before the world.

BUSY CORRECTING SCORES OF THOSE OUT TO WIN PRIZES

Standing of Candidates Will be Published Middle of Week.

Spreading Periods Near End; Contest Becomes Intense.

BOTH AUTOS ARE IN THE CITY

Busy! The clerical force in The Sun office is busy today in making up the scores of the candidates in The Sun and Associate Newspapers' Great Voting Contest. These scores will be published in The Sun about the middle of the week and will show that the spreading period of the contest is over and that from now on it will be a well-fought battle between the hearty and more energetic of the candidates. In fact the intense stage has now been reached and the remaining seven weeks of the contest are going to be marked by spirited hustling on the part of earnest and active people who have started in to win. Every active candidate will make a supreme effort this week to obtain as many extra votes as possible by getting in both OLD and NEW subscriptions before the expiration of the second bonus, which closes Saturday night. The realization that this is the most liberal bonus of the contest has put candidates to work in dead earnest.

Contest Notes. The two Ford automobiles, first and second grand prizes, were in Paducah Sunday and the touring car will remain here all this week. Both machines have been thoroughly inspected by experts in the Foreman garage and pronounced to be in excellent condition. The fact is, they run more smoothly and are more easily handled than the day they left the factory. Both cars were run over the streets of the city and attracted much attention.

STATE PRESS.

Louisville Times.

It is extremely gratifying to recognize in the courteous and attentive reception noted out all but universally to Mrs. Bartlett-Crane that the crusade she is leading is by no means a forlorn hope; that, in fact, it may fairly be regarded as the beginning of regular warfare on all those evils which she has pilloried for our betterment and theirs. The fatuous and ill-mannered gibes of the fiscal court of McCracken county resemble nothing so much as the abuse and bluster of an attorney with a bad case; they do not convince and they do disgust. It is not enough, nor should it be, for one city or county in the state to take shelter for lamentable and remediable conditions behind so inadequate an excuse as that it is no worse off than its neighbor; neither is it fair to say of Mrs. Crane that her condemnations are sweeping, intemperate and hasty. Indeed, the two most gratifying features of her tour are, first, that she has found much to praise, and, next, that she has aroused so ready a response to suggestions undoubtedly practical.

It may go without saying that the plan to abolish the present school organization in Louisville and substitute a small commission will be laid before the general assembly next

The Chautauqua

He spoke of the nebular hypothesis, as presuming the existence of matter and force. "Whence came matter and force?" he inquired, and science cannot answer him.

A Designer Back of the Design. He said while science is groping for the origin of things, he prefers to believe a designer is back of the design and that the world is not the result of chance. He declared that the person, who adopts the ultra-material theory of world development, must possess more blind faith than is demanded by the Christian religion.

As to miracles, he pointed to the fact that until 100 years ago lightning was a terrifying mystery. Now the invisible fluid, electricity, is imprisoned in a man-made wire. Recently a new substance for the transmission of messages, the wireless system, has been invented. If Christ was divine, why could he not know of forces in the world, which man has never yet discovered, and may never? He asked the question, could God perform a miracle? and was assured that the Creator of the world could do anything with it. He asked if God would wish to perform a miracle, and admitted that his own knowledge of what God wishes done from day to day is so limited, that he would not have the audacity to guess what God wanted done three thousand years ago.

The Mystery of Nature. He called upon the agnostic, who says he believes only what he knows to declare whether he believes in the principle of life, when he cannot explain it. He demanded to know what science can tell us of how a watermelon seed, of which it would take thousands to make a pound, could by laying in the ground push up through the soil a tiny shoot and on the end of the that shoot build amelon, with a green covering, inside of a white rind and inside the rind meat, flavored to the taste of a melon and filled with other tiny seeds capable of doing the same thing again. There is no mystery in rolling a greater than the mystery of the about us and the life that is in us.

The Prince of Peace. But he said speculation in the mysteries of religion are not as important as consideration of the truths it reveals. He said he would not need to disclose the miracles of Christ to convince one of his divinity. The unlearned son of a poor carpenter, at 30 he gave to the world a system of theology and moral philosophy, the like of which the world has never seen. He gathered about him few disciples during the three years of his ministry; then was crucified and most of his disciples were killed. Yet he has greater power in the world today than he had then, and as men grow in intelligence, they see more clearly the purity of the truths he revealed. Knowledge of human nature precludes the possibility that a human being could have lived the perfectly spotless life of Christ, yet active, a living example for the ages.

He declared the doctrine of "vicarious atonement," the necessity of one suffering for the benefit of the many, is the exemplification of a law of nature, revealed all about us. The mother suffers to bring her offspring into the world, and she is not repaid by the child for her suffering. Every generation must have its human sacrifice. Every generation makes sacrifices for the next.

Christ has earned the title of "Prince of Peace." His ways are ways of peace, conquering wrong. His commandment is that "Ye love one another." The measure of greatness is service. Mr. Bryan said the human measure of greatness is "income," that of divinity is "outgo." The true measure of greatness is the service a man does to his fellowman. When that standard becomes universal in the world, the kingdom of the

ARMY CAPTAIN FATALLY SHOT

By Corporal He Had Called to be Reprimanded.

But Not Seriously—Another Corporal and a Sergeant Wounded in the Firing.

HAPPENED AT DES MOINES.

Des Moines, June 14.—Corporal Leslie Crabtree fatally shot Captain John C. Raymond, commanding officer of Troop B, second United States cavalry, at Fort Des Moines, shot and seriously injured First Sergeant James H. Washburn and Corporal Elijah Such who attempted to disarm him, then shot himself.

Crabtree's injuries are not seriously fatal, the bullet striking the rib above the heart and crushing it. Crabtree had been reprimanded by Captain Raymond because of his failure to report when his leave of absence had expired this morning. He had spent the night in Des Moines and was to have returned to his barracks at 7 a. m. Crabtree was summoned by Captain Raymond this afternoon and questioned as to his conduct whereupon the corporal hotly insisted that he had leave of absence until 7 o'clock tonight.

Captain Raymond accepted this explanation and the incident closed when Crabtree demanded that he be transferred to another part of the army which Captain Raymond refused to consider, telling the corporal he could not do that as long as he was not a good soldier.

Immediately Crabtree drew his revolver and began firing.

"Prince of Peace" will be here. People go through the world seeking happiness. Some expect to buy it; but they never accumulate the price of it. Others look for it in society, and others in worldly honors; but all fail. A great and just God has put happiness and peace within the reach of all, set a standard for its measurement and provided a way to attain it.

In the Evening. After Vesper services conducted by Rev. William Bourquin in the evening, Miss Mary Lawrence Claxton made her first appearance and evidently caught the very good audience in attendance. She will be with the assembly till the close of the season. The interesting and versatile Trier Sisters completed the day's exercises with a musical program, a few numbers only of which were necessary to show that they had sung themselves into the hearts of their hearers. They give another entertainment Tuesday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. Hon. Polk Miller and Col. Tom Booker are already in the city and as "Two Old Confederates" will appear at 8 p. m. this evening in a delightful and entertaining program of story and song, in which the old time ditty will play an important part.

NOTES.

The lunch stand in charge of the Episcopal ladies is well worth finding. It is near the pavilion. The seats in the park are well patronized between entertainments. The ten-minute schedule by the street cars will go into effect at 3:30 p. m. and 6:40 p. m. during the entire session of Chautauqua. At the close of the afternoon and evening entertainments there will be plenty of cars to carry the people to the city and make all connections. Through the kindness of the Chautauqua association and the Paducah Traction company, transportation to and from the park and free admission will be given the children at the home of the Friendless sometime during the week.

The handling of the splendid Sunday afternoon crowd demonstrated the efficiency of the street car service.

Everybody was pleased with the first day.

While in the city Mr. Bryan was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Utterback.

It was not very gratifying to see how few could comply with the request to join in singing "America," with the band.

Everybody was delighted with the splendid first day, many feeling that in it they had gotten the full worth of their season tickets.

There are six more days, making a season ticket still a good investment.

Following is the program for the Chautauqua:

for our state a supervision of her banks as effective as any in the land.
God knows Kentucky is behind in this respect. Only one other state I know of keeps her company, and that is Tennessee—we might emulate Tennessee in the interest that her banks show in their association, having a membership of 416 out of a possible 430, but not in her indifference as to the supervision of her banks. We ought to have a banking law so drawn and so enforced that we will not be assailed on the one hand by state guarantee of deposits and by postal savings banks on the other. That we have not had more bank failures in Kentucky reflects great credit upon the personnel of her bankers—that we have had as many as we have, is a serious reflection upon those whose duty it is to make the laws and to see that they are enforced.

"I am glad that I came—this is an enjoyable occasion to me, and it is worth all the time and trouble I took to be here. I want to attest my high temporarily carry on the work of the association—more especially do I want to commend Mr. Riecke, your vice president, and Mr. Dees, Mr.

AT THE CHURCHES

Broadway Methodist.
The Rev. New Harris, of Tyler, Texas, laid the pulpit of the Broadway Methodist church Sunday night and was greeted by a large congregation. Mr. Harris formerly lived in Paducah and entered the ministry while studying law in this city. He is an eloquent speaker and his sermon was a splendid and thoughtful presentation of the "Power of the Resurrection in the Regenerated Life." Mr. Harris showed himself a student in a wide range of thought.
He is one of the leading ministers of the Texas conference. He is a brother of Mrs. W. L. Young and Mr.
Floyd Harris of this city and was a prominent lay worker and Sunday school teacher of the Broadway
Methodist church when living here.
Many of his former friends heard him last evening.

The music at the Broadway Methodist church yesterday was especially fine. The morning offertory was attractively sung by Miss Grace Dean of Wartrace, Tenn., who is the guest of Mrs. Marshall Puryear. Miss Mabel Shelton after the sermon rendered "Not Lost but Gone Before," very charmingly. Mr. Kemp, of Clinton sang an impressive manner the evening offertory.

Memorial services were held yesterday morning at the Broadway
Methodist Sunday school for Mr. E.
A. Fox, general secretary of the state Sunday school work, who recently died in Louisville. Mr. Fox was for six years superintendent of the Broadway Sunday school and was greatly beloved by its teachers and pupils. Mr. C. B. Hatfield read a feeling tribute and resolutions to Mr. Fox. The Rev. W. A. Swift, of

Closing remarks by the superin-

The collection was good and everything was a decided success in every way. After the exercises were concluded the pastor received two into the church.

At the Second Baptist church fine services were held and both sermons were well attended. There will be no services this week on account of the text meeting.

There were two additions to the Kentucky avenue Presbyterian church yesterday and the Rev. J. H. Henry preached two good sermons.

Both services at the First Baptist were well attended and the pastor, Rev. Mr. Dodd, preached two excellent sermons. Dr. Dodd will not take a vacation this year.

The usual Sunday services were held at the Grace Episcopal church and a good attendance was reported.
A large congregation was present at the Third street Methodist church sermons.

No service was held at the German Evangelical church last night, as Dr.
Bourquin held vespers at the Chautauqua. The morning service was well attended and a good sermon was heard.

The services were all well attended and good sermons were preached at the German Lutheran church yesterday. The pastor, the Rev. William Grother, announced that he would not take a vacation this summer.

The Baraca class of the Second Baptist church will meet tonight with Mr. Robt Reynolds, 216 Adams streets, for the purpose of electing officers, and transacting other business. All members are requested to be present.

The Rev. S. H. Rudolph preached, both morning and evening at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, in the absence of the pastor, the Rev.
D. W. Fooks. Both services were extra good. Rev. Rudolph is an excellent speaker and a very spirited man.

The monthly business meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the Cumberland Presbyterian church will be held at the residence of the Rev. and Mrs. D. W. Fooks, Maplewood Terrace, after the regular order of business a social will be enjoyed by the young people.

For about six years Sir John has had 14,000 men working for him on the banks of the Nile, and the reservoir which he has built—holding 80,000,000,000 gallons of water, weighing nearly 400,000,000 tons—stands as one of the engineering marvels of the age. ## WHY YOUNG MEN DO NOT ATTEND

Paper Read Before Protestant Pastors' Association.

Grover Burns Gives Reasons for Non-Church Attendance Among the Young.

CONSIDERED VALUABLE PAPER

The following interesting paper by Grover Burns was read before the Protestant Pastors' association:

When asked a short time ago by Brother Sullivan to write a paper upon this subject to be read before you, it was with some hesitancy that I agreed to attempt such an undertaking. I at first thought that some older and more experienced person ought to prepare this paper, but upon second thought, I saw that it would be better for a younger person to prepare it, for he would know the real reasons why young men do not attend church and what it would take to get them there.

Upon entering the churches of our country, one of the first things we notice is the absence of a number of our young men. Then we begin asking ourselves why it is more of our young men do not attend church?

One of the first thoughts that came to me when I began this paper was, would it not be best to go direct to the young man himself and ask him why he does not attend church. This I did and I was surprised at the number of reasons and excuses each young man had for not doing so.

One of the very first of all reasons why a great many young men do not attend church is because they were not trained to attend church when they were children, or in other words a lack of home training. A great many parents who are very careful that their boys shall attend Sunday school do not insist upon them attending church, thinking and trusting that they will go of their own accord when they grow older. The parent, who insists upon his boys attending church and by his life teaches them a joyful religion and who explains and shows his son what a valuable part of his life his religion is, will find that his little boy will learn to associate the church (even before they are old enough to understand the sermon) with certain uplifting thoughts, and will keep in their memory a holy place to which they are greatly blessed to go. It is not often that a boy who has been taught to go to church when a child, will forget his church when he grows older. Mr. King struck the keynote in his sermon in this church a short time ago when he laid the responsibility of boys going astray upon the fathers.

Another of the chief reasons why more young men do not attend church is because they find many other places more attractive. There are so many nice, comfortable club houses where the young man can rest, read and meet each other. Where is our Young Men's Christian association? Why is it that Paducah has no Y. M. C. A. building where the young men and boys of our city could meet and have the best papers, books and magazines to read? It is a shame that the Christian people and the churches of Paducah cannot support a Y. M. C. A. Eugene Foster says, "Satisfy the boy's longings and meet his interests within the church." It can be done and the young man will have little need to go far afield and find acquaintance elsewhere. It is the church's business to provide social life for its young people. I have gone along the brightly streets of

JUST ONE A DAY.

How the Coffee Drinker Compromises His Health.

Some people say: "Coffee don't hurt me" and then add: "Anyway I only drink one cup a day."

If coffee really don't hurt why not drink more? There is but one answer and that is coffee does hurt them and they know it. When they drink it once a day they compromise with their enemy. There are people whom one cup of coffee a day will put in bed, if the habit be continued. "Although warned by physicians to let coffee alone I have always been so fond of it that I continued to use it," confesses an Ohio lady. "I compromised with myself and drank just one cup every morning until about six weeks ago."

"All the time I was drinking coffee I had heart trouble that grew steadily worse and finally I had such alarming sensations in my head (sometimes causing me to fall down) that I at last took my doctor's advice and quit coffee and began to use Postum in its place."

"The results have been all that the doctor hoped for. I have not only lost my craving for coffee and enjoy my good Postum just as well, but my heart trouble has ceased and I have no more dizzy spells in my head. I feel better in every way and consider myself a very fortunate woman to have found the truth about Postum."

Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MARLTON, N.J.—I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life.

I suffered for ten years with serious female troubles, inflammation, ulceration, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up as they said my troubles were chronic. I was in despair, and did not care whether I lived or died, when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so I began to take it, and am well again and relieved of all my suffering.

Mrs. Gionee Jony, Box 40, Marlton, N.J. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, period pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

some of our great cities and have seen our young people literally swarm into doubtful places of amusement, and have turned a corner and come upon a church, somber and silent. No welcoming light there; no cheerful room or quiet nook where a young man could read or play a simple game; no offer of companionship for the fellow who is longing for it. I think that if the different churches of Paducah would join hands and provide and furnish a building for the young men and boys, which could be closed during hours of worship, we would find many more of them in the pews on Sundays. We should have a place where the young men and the different ministers could meet each other. I think that if men of the different churches would have more social gatherings, it would bring the young man out. The main thing is to get him acquainted with the pastor and the men of the church. A young man likes to feel at home when he visits any place and unless he is acquainted, he cannot feel at home and he will not become interested.

The older men who are Christians do not show enough personal interest in the young man. Many of the good men of the church are so consumed with running the machinery that they have no time left to impress themselves upon the young man life of the community. The Laymen's Movement is a wonderful thing for this generation. It puts the laymen to personal work as well as the minister. The young man likes and appreciates calls from his pastor and the older men of the church. Make him feel that you are personally interested in him and his future, and you have won him. I believe that if each church had a special committee to look up the young men of our city and personally meet and ask them to come out to church, we would have a larger number within the church door.

My Sunday school teacher, Mrs. Davis, a few Sundays ago adopted the plan of sending a special committee, composed of three members of our class, to call upon different young men and ask them to come to Sunday school. The plan worked fine and we have added several new members to our class. I think the same plan could be adopted by our churches. A short time ago a Sunday school teacher asked her class of young men this question, "Do you know any man who you really believe has taken Jesus Christ for his example in life and is endeavoring to live as he would have him?" Two young men instantly answered, "I do," naming older members of this church. Don't you believe a word of encouragement now and then from these older men to these young men, a word of what God is doing for them in their spiritual life, would increase the interest of the young man in his church and keep his attendance regular?

After all many a young man's idea of a church will largely be decided by what he sees in his minister. A happy minister is he who knows his young men and whose young men know him. I have asked a number of young men what do you like about your minister? One said, "He takes an interest in young men;" another said, "He is sociable and pleasant;" another, "He always speaks to me like a close friend;" another, "He applies the scripture in his every day life." All of which allow me to say applies to the ministers of our city. Paducah is indeed fortunate in having in her midst, as our ministers, men of talent, men of broad human sympathy, and men of Christ-like lives. The young men are the better for your living with us. Young men like to hear men who believe what they say. We wake up when we not only hear of the historical Christ living in Judea twenty centuries ago, but see the living Christ shining through our minister's face and sermons, as through a lattice, and scent the perfume of the rose and the lily fresh from the gardens of heaven. Let any man put a large, loving, vital manhood, rich with humanities, into his ministrations, and the young man will respond to him. The preacher's soul is a prism through which the white and dazzling light of spiritual truth passes, and receives in passing human coloring and refraction along the lines of human want and sensibility. Truth is transmitted into life only through personality. As I have said before, the minister should become personally acquainted with the young men of his church and should try to call upon them as often as possible.

I find that a great many young men have for their excuse for not attending church on Sunday mornings that they work late on Saturday nights and have to sleep late Sunday mornings to rest up. As a matter of fact, though there are very few young men who do not arise early enough to attend church if they made any effort to do so. They go to their clubs instead of to church. Some of the young professional men claim that they cannot attend church because they cannot leave their office. We have a young physician in this church who, when asked to take charge of a Sunday school class, thought that he would not have time to attend church and Sunday school, but since he took charge of the class, he finds that he has plenty of time.

Some of our young men say that they do not like to go to church because the sermons are too long and dry. I believe that if special sermons were preached from time to time for the young man that more of the would become interested. I have heard some young men say that the ministers should talk more about the practical issues of the day, that their sermons would be more interesting if this were done.

One of the chief reasons why young men do not attend church on Sunday evenings is because they spend that evening calling upon the young ladies. I do not like to impose upon our young ladies by saying that they are the cause of a great many young men not attending church on Sunday evenings, but it is true. If the young ladies of our city could be induced to come to church, the young man or at least a great many of them would follow.

Lastly and in conclusion, I will say that one of the most important means of inducing the young man to attend church is to make him feel that he is a part of the church, that he has a personal interest in the church, give him something to do. Do not let the older men serve as ushers and take up collections. Turn these positions over to the young man. Give him something to do and he will feel that it is his duty to attend church and he will feel that the church cannot exist without him.

STOCK MARKET IS FIRM IN ITS TONE

Despite Some Recession Under Realization.

Crop Outlook Shows Improvement and There Is No Cause for Alarm.

FUNDS ARE STILL PLENTIFUL.

New York, June 14 (Special).—The stock market continues under strong control. Prices at times receded under realizations, but the general undertone remains firm. This is owing to the rising tide of confidence. If it be asked upon what this new confidence is based, it must be answered that it is due to the general improvement in business, together with lessened opposition towards corporations, which, with one or two notable exceptions, are conducting themselves with more regard for public welfare and legal requirements than formerly. The iron trade continues to lead in this respect. Heavy orders for all kinds of steel products were placed in May, and the month of June promises to be also a very active month, so far as regards the receipt of new orders. The spectacular rise in steel stocks is much more due to this reason than to efforts for their listing in Paris. The latter merely indicates a desire to provide a world wide market for these securities, which are already scattered all over Europe. Fully 90 per cent of the United States steel company's productive capacity is now supposed to be employed; and as the company's expenditures out of earnings for the Gary plant and other improvements have about reached their culmination, the impression gains that a larger proportion of profits will hereafter be applicable to dividends, hence the strength of the common stock. The activity in Southern Pacific was also a feature, proving that the big men are still active in the market and engaged in its support. In fact, all indications suggest that our leading bankers are interested in preventing any important reaction from present high prices. The big leaders are still well loaded with stocks which they desire to distribute, and are consequently induced to carry the market to as high a level as possible. Thus far the public has shown little disposition to aid these gentlemen in their philanthropic programme, but remains in a skeptical frame of mind and seems indisposed to invest at the present high level. On the other hand, few holders are inclined to part with good stocks while general conditions remain so favorable. Money continues excessively cheap, and this, of course, is a powerful element towards the support of values; for even at present prices many stocks afford satisfactory returns when compared with prevailing interest rates. It must be borne in mind, too, that many of our industrialists owing to business recovery are beginning to earn larger profits, while the railroads also are getting their full share of recovery and securing considerably better net results than a year ago.

Crop Outlook.
While the crop outlook is not all that might be desired, it shows improvement and presents nothing to occasion alarm. It is quite possible, if not probable, that we shall have as large a cotton crop this year as last year, in spite of the agitation for decreased acreage. As there is good profit in raising cotton at present prices, and cotton the most important crop in the adjustment of our foreign trade balance, the outlook in this respect is entirely satisfactory. Whatever shortage there may be in wheat will be more than compensated for by the large increase in corn acreage. If average conditions prevail we should produce a record-making corn crop. As this crop exceeds in value any other two crops combined, and farmers are securing very profitable prices for this cereal, it is reasonable to hope for another profitable harvest. Wheat is, of course, a very profitable crop at present figures; though it is not without significance that the present high price of flour has so checked consumption as to cause supplies to accumulate and force price cutting among the mills. The fruit crops are not in as good condition as last year, and all crops combined are officially stated to be 4 points below last year, but 8 points above the year before. With our industrial and agricultural situations both in such promising condition, it is not surprising that confidence is growing, and already running into a strong degree of optimism. The dangers that once more confront us are those of over-sound and illegitimate enterprises, all of which are stimulated to an un-wholesome degree by an excessive supply of abnormally cheap money. The great expansion in loans shows upon what an extensive scale speculation is now being conducted by big operators.

Monetary Outlook.
No immediate change is anticipated in the monetary outlook. Funds are very plentiful at low rates, the latter being likely to continue for at least another two or three months. Loans are hovering about record-breaking

NATURE TELLS YOU.
As Many a Paducah Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are ailed. Nature tells you all about it. The urine is nature's calendar. Infrequent or too frequent action. And urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Paducah people testify to this. Mrs. Kate Englist, 502 Washington street, Paducah, Ky., says: "I have had a very satisfactory experience with Doan's Kidney Pills and consequently I do not hesitate to recommend them to any person suffering from kidney complaint. I had frequent attacks of backache and there were pains in my side often so severe that it was difficult for me to bend over. At times the kidney secretions became too frequent in passage and looked very unnatural. I found long ago that there is only one remedy that will help me, and that one is Doan's Kidney Pills. They always go to the seat of my trouble and in a short time drive the attack away."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

figures, indicating unusual speculative demands. The end of cheap money, however, is already in sight, and will begin as soon as crop and business demands assert themselves more positively. This will probably not appear within another two or three months. Then we may look for advancing rates in money, the effect of which upon the security markets will be awaited with unusual interest. This money is already becoming tighter. The immediate outlook of the market is problematical. The big men have the situation completely under control and skillfully hold up the market, forcing moderate advances and then permitting occasional recessions, meanwhile gradually parting with part of their holdings. While this condition remains, we can only advise purchases for quick turns and selling on all pronounced advances.

As evidence of business activity, it may be cited that bank clearings in May at all cities were almost 20 per cent in excess of the same month last year, and this at a time when Stock Exchange transactions were lighter than a year ago.

FINGER MARKS BETRAY THEM

Prints on Champagne Glasses Gave Clow.

Two French Plumbers Murdered Old Woman in Her Home, Robbed Her of $15

AND DRANK HER CHAMPAGNE

Paris, June 14.—Finger prints have played an important part in elucidating the mystery of a crime committed at Neuilly-Plaisance, near Paris, on Sunday night last. For once the system of Bertillon has given prompt and brilliant results, and the finger prints left on a champagne bottle and on a wine glass have led to the immediate identification of two alleged murderers. Last Sunday night a widow, Mme. Agnes Moise, was murdered in her own house. She was 76 years of age and curiously enough, had a constant fear of being attacked by burglars. Her husband died two years ago, and since then she was so afraid of robbers that she never left her house after dark. Last Sunday she went out for the first time with some little niece to a local fair, and returned alone about 10 o'clock at night. She asked one of her neighbors to accompany her through her garden into the house to make sure that no burglars had entered it during her absence. Two young women accompanied her, and after looking through the rooms on the ground floor, where they saw nothing, they retired and left the old lady. At that very time two burglars were in the kitchen. They waited until Mme. Moise was alone, and then, when she came to the kitchen door for an egg, as she did every night, they pounced upon her, strangled her and stabbed her to death.

They only discovered about $15 in her possession. However, they made up for their disappointment by ransacking her larder, where they found several bottles of champagne, which they emptied. When the crime was discovered on Monday morning, M. Bertillon was not once sent for and took photographs of the finger prints on the bottles and glasses. The prints were perfectly distinct, but of course the question was to find the men who had left them. An old couple living close by had a ne'er-do-well son, who was just wanted by the police for a sum of $40 which he had stolen from one of his cousins. This young man who only occasionally worked as a plumber, and lived most of the time nobody knew how, was arrested. He occupied a room in a low class inn with a chum of his, and when the police came to arrest him his room companion gave a sigh of relief on hearing that the plumber was arrested for having robbed only his cousin.

M. Bertillon later on had the happy inspiration of comparing the marks which he had photographed from the champagne bottle with the fingers of the plumber, and was struck at once by their close resemblance.

DOUBLE WEDDING PARTY
FROM HERRIN, ILLINOIS.

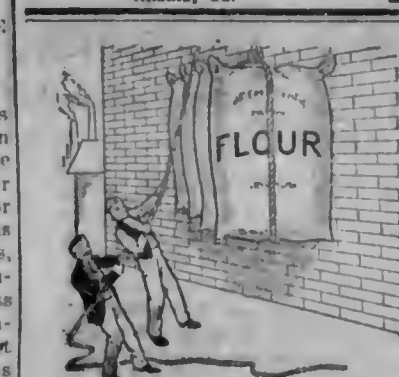

Minnie Brennan, of Herrin, Ill., and Fred Ragsdale, of Christopher, Ill., and Myrtle Brennan and Claude Pearce, of Herrin, Ill., were married Saturday afternoon by County Judge R. T. Lightfoot. Myrtle Brennan was but 19 years old, and the law stood in her way, but as she was an orphan, H. E. Foreman was appointed guardian for her and he gave his consent for the marriage. The license was issued, and both couples were married by one ceremony.

American Breakfast.
As to the British breakfast, what is that meal—albeit proverbial—compared with the American? The writer has kept as a document to serve in the curious international accusation of overeating, the menu of an American breakfast. It is the bill of fare of a great California hotel, and it contains—well, everything there is. But the home American does likewise, an orange begins the meal, porridge urges it on to beefsteak, a chop, large potatoes in their skins, fish, stewed fruit and bread hot from the oven and heavily buttered. The weight, the substance, the variety, the length the heat of the repast seems to give the slender name of breakfast a new meaning.

Optimistic.
"My wife is a very optimistic woman."
"Indeed she is."
"Noticed it, have you?"
"Yes; when I was talking with her yesterday she said that if you ever died she would marry again because she felt sure that she could do better next time."—Houston Post

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE WEEK

Vote Expected on Bailey-Cummings Income Tax.

Today is Flag Day and Generally Observed—Achievements of Wright Brothers Will Be Further

CELEBRATED AT DAYTON, OHIO

Washington, June 14.—No set event of the week is anticipated with a keener relish than the vote that may be taken Friday in the senate on the income tax amendment to the tariff bill. Senators Bailey and Cummings, representing the Democrats and each Republicans as are determined upon the income tax, appear confident that their compromise amendment will be adopted.

Many universities have commenced this week.

Today is Flag Day, and thanks to the American Flag association, the day is generally observed.

The achievements of the Wright brothers will be celebrated again this week, at their home in Dayton, where the festivities in honor of the aero champions will occupy Thursday and Friday.

In foreign fields important events include the world missionary conference, which opens at Edinburgh today; the continuation through Wednesday of the golden jubilee of the North American college at Rome and the planned meeting of Emperor William of Germany and Emperor Nicholas of Russia at Revel on Thursday.

Pay your city taxes now and avoid the penalty after July 1.

REVENUE SHIPS ON THE LOOKOUT

For Vessels on Filibustering Expedition.

Ocean Impassable for Smaller Craft Along Coast of North Carolina Sound and Chances of Success

OF THE PROJECT ARE SMALL

Beaufort, N. C., June 14.—With two revenue cutters, the Seminole and the Pamlico, on watch, and great seas making the inlets connecting North Carolina sounds with the Atlantic ocean impassable for anything but the strongest craft, the chances of the success of the filibustering expedition from these waters directed against Venezuela are small.

The treasury department's activities were invoked because of the persistent rumors that Castro's friends are planning a hostile expedition against President Gomez's government. It was alleged that a fifteen thousand stand of arms had been shipped from Belgium to America for this expedition.

Secret service agents discovered that two vessels suitable for filibustering have been sold by a New York brokerage firm to unknown parties. Both were near Norfolk, and one was found to be the old side-wheeler Nanticoke, found at Edenton, N. C., whereupon the revenue cutters were called into service to watch her, and that is the situation.

There is a possibility that there is nothing illegal about the sale of the Nanticoke and the other unknown ship, and it is reported that the vessels are designed to ply in peaceful trade on the inland waters of Venezuela.

NEW AEROPLANE RIVALS WRIGHTS

Invented by Minnesotans of Mechanical Genius.

Successful in Trial—Known as Butterfly Style Because of Peculiar Arrangement of Planes.

TO ENTER GOVERNMENT TESTS

Minneapolis, Minn., June 14.—Working in strictest secrecy in a windowless cement shop located at a point in the woods eight miles northwest of Medicine Lake, this county, J. Stewart, a railroad engineer, and S. Brownell, a farmer of considerable mechanical genius, have invented an aeroplane, which, when perfected in all its parts, promises to rival the invention that has made the Wright brothers, of Dayton, O., famous the world over.

Because of the peculiar arrangements of the planes and the means for manipulating them the Stewart-Brownell invention is called a "butterfly" aeroplane.

Wednesday night at a full moon a successful flight was made.

HOLD-UP

TOOK PLACE SATURDAY NIGHT ON STREET.

Virgil Chastaine, 532 North Fifth Street, Victim of Footpads.

Virgil Chastaine, of 532 North Fifth street, was the prey for two stick-up men Saturday night. About 11 o'clock Saturday night as Chastaine was going home two white men held him up at an alley on Eighth street between Madison and Harrison streets and robbed him of $18. The highwaymen approached Chastaine and one of the men fired a pistol off in the air and then showed the gun in the face of Chastaine and compelled him to hold up his hands and look up in the air. The partner of the man with the gun very quickly relieved Chastaine of his money. No trace of the highwaymen have been found by the police. Shortly before that time a young man reported at Pettit's drug store, Twelfth and Third streets, that two men were lurking in the alley, but no one thought anything of it.

BIG HAUL

MADE BY THIEF IN YOPP'S GROCERY STORE.

Got Away With Sack Containing About $130 Saturday Night.

While Nick Yopp, a grocer at Tenth and Boyd streets, was selling a customer a small piece of cheese Saturday night about 11 o'clock, a big negro stole a sack of money of about $130 out of the cash drawer and made his escape. Yopp had counted his money and placed it in a sack and was preparing to close up when a negro man entered his store and wanted ten cents worth of cheese. At first the groceryman refused to sell any cheese but the negro insisted and Yopp went to the rear end of the store and while he did so a negro wearing a brown suit of clothes and a black felt hat entered the grocery. The proprietor paid no attention to the newcomer and went on cutting the cheese. After making the sale Yopp went to the cash drawer and he discovered the sack of money missing and also the negro with the brown suit of clothes.

In the sack there was a hundred dollars in $5 and $10 bills and about $30 in cash. Yopp ran out of his store and notified Patrolmen Owen and Vick, but no trace of the robber has yet been found.

Wallace Park Notes.

On account of the orchestra being engaged elsewhere for tomorrow night, the music for the Wallace park pavilion dance will be furnished by a good rag-time piano player assisted by drums, and in compensation to the dancers the price of admission for that night will be reduced to twenty-five cents. As piano and drums is a favorite combination with many dancers it is expected that the reduced price will be more than satisfactory to those who may attend. The Casino will be dark during Chautauqua week, but next week the regular season will begin, moving pictures and vaudeville to be offered. This program is expected to be maintained during the season except upon a few occasions, where road attractions have been booked.

A sad story from the Gulf of Mexico has it that a porpoise was sucked into a hole in a Mallory Line steamer's bottom preventing an influx of water and saving the ship.
